

Eighth Grade, Session 3

Support Network

What is hard about seeking advice or support?

What stops people from asking for help when they are struggling in school with their academics?

What stops people from asking for help when they have problems with other people at school?

In a perfect world, what would happen if you asked for help from someone?